MICROCLENE AIR FILTERS

Microclene have a range of air filters to suit all size applications from the small 3x3 garden shed through to your large sheds. These filters work on the Coanda effect where the air is drawn in through the bottom filter then exhausted out clean air at the top creating a mushroom effect so the air is circulated all through the shed, unlike the box style that have a race track style of air flow requiring 2 units to do the same job.
